The world's smartest portable cooking device

Our story

It's the journey that matters not the destination

The founders of nomadiQ are real outdoor people. We love to BBQ and cook in the open air. Gather at fun places and eat together with family and friends. A small city escape or going on a short holiday to nowhere. On a balcony, in the park, on a boat, on a campsite or on the beach. We love to BBQ and cook everywhere! But we didn't had a device that could easily be taken anywhere, is easy to use and looks stylish. That is how the idea of the nomadiQ came about. Four years later, after a lot of (re-) development and testing, nomadiQ is ready to conquer the world!

That's why we've designed:
The world's smartest
portable cooking device

Our mission: Go out and cook everywhere!

We want to offer a counterbalance to the everyday madness and stress that characterizes modern society. We want to give people the freedom to create that special quality (happy) moment with friends and family at any location. Preparing food and cooking connects people. We only made it nice and easy to do it everywhere!

Everywhere: city, outdoor, campsite, on the road

It's more than a BBQ, it's a cooking device!

So go out and cook everywhere!
